Studies published in the Archives of Internal Medicine have disclosed that acid-suppressing drugs commonly used for the relief of acid reflux have been shown to pose a 74% increased risk of C. difficile (a dangerous intestinal infection), higher rates of pneumonia and a 47% greater risk of spinal fracture.

There is also evidence that an estimated 70% of those continually taking acid blockers don't really need them and could experience better, longer-lasting results with lifestyle changes and safer, simpler ways to improve nutrient digestibility and absorbability, maintain a healthier acid/alkaline balance and control reflux symptoms.

Abzorb, an advanced combination of enzymes, probiotics and ozonated magnesium, has been formulated to improve digestion and absorption, ease bloating, reduce food intolerances and balance microflora in the gut for increased energy, better pH stability, more normal gut activity and improved over-all health.

As always, we guarantee your satisfaction.
